

Youth Ballet of Saskatchewan (YBS) is committed to providing a welcoming, safe and supportive environment where students are able to reach their individual dance potential. Dance instructors will provide quality instruction with a high priority on safety and injury prevention. Through mutual respect and commitment, everyone is responsible for making YBS a positive place to participate in dance classes and performances.

All Parents/Guardians are expected to follow the Parent/Guardian Code of Conduct:

- Support your dancer(s) with positivity, encouragement to practice, and reminders to follow the Dancer Code of Conduct.
- Respect and abide by all YBS policies and procedures.
- Ensure that your dancer(s) are properly prepared, including following the dress code, hair requirements, and being on time for class.
- Ensure that your dancer(s) maintain appropriate decorum and respect in public areas before and after class.
- Supervise dancer(s) outside of class to minimize distraction to classes in progress.
- Make sure that your dancer(s) are dropped off and picked up at the end of class in accordance with the Dancer Drop-Off and Pick-Up Policy.
- Inform the YBS Office when your dancer(s) are unable to attend class.
- Stay informed by checking your email, the YBS website, Facebook page, and the YBS bulletin board for important information.
- Respect the professional guidance given by instructors and/or the Artistic Director in your dancer(s) development. Please communicate with your dancer(s) instructor in a constructive manner. Concerns should be raised in a timely fashion and parents/guardians should allow the instructors to hear and respond to concerns in a private setting. A more formal meeting with the instructor and/or the Artistic Director may be requested if concerns remain after the initial discussion.
